LIBERTY

DEMOCRACY

At Random

Michigan avenue and all adjoining blocks were lined with autos on both sides of the streets Friday and Saturday nights.

And cars were parked three abreast in the middle of the street in business section of Michigan avenue.

At least there weren't too many eating places in Grayling during the first days of the hunting season.

Some people may have had to wait their turns, but nobody had to go away hungry in Grayling.

Isn't it strange that some people don't think a sheriff ever needs sleep.

Grayling's state liquor store reported $3,756 net taken in at the store Friday—the day before opening of the deer hunting season.

And nearly a like amount Saturday.

It would take a lot of aspirin to cure all the headaches that may have followed.

The traffic on US-27 last half of last week was terrific. Friday the highway was literally jammed with traffic.

And by golly, there'll be turkey on the editorial table for Thanksgiving. A gift from our Grangers. Thanks, a lot.

The bird was raised by Martha Peterson of Maple Forest, which assures a fine one.

There is SO much to be thankful for.

Our families are still united. We are still a democracy. We still can have something to say about our government.

Those school kids and elders had a great time Monday night at the annual school carnival.

There was a lot of good, clean entertainment for everyone.

Bill McEvers says we are having Indian summer.

Whatever it is, it is very welcome to most of us.

And Bill says it will last a month. His prognostication is now on record.

To use a couple of bowling terms, we wish they would spare us some of these strikes.

Carrying out an American tradition, churches all over the country will observe Nov. 23 as Tuberculosis Sunday, paying tribute to the Christmas seal which goes on sale for the 35th time Nov. 24.

10-Ton Tractor Runs Over Workman

WAS NIGHT FOREMAN AT AIRPORT

Boyd Stetler, 32, of Olivet, was instantly killed during Thursday night while at work at McNamara airport when he was run over by a ten-ton tractor, engaged in grading operations that are underway at the Grayling flying field.

Stetler was night foreman of the Cheney & Wright Construction Co. of Williamston. It is reported that the crew had just finished eating their midnight lunch and were ready to renew operations. Leon Brenner, another employee, had started one tractor by the aid of a "pusher." Then he turned to start the one being operated by Stetler, not noticing that the latter was beneath his tractor to oil it. The huge machine started forward and one side ran over the victim's breast, completely crushing it. The remains were taken to the Sorenson Funeral home and the following day to Olivet. He was a single man and lived with his parents, between Olivet and Charlotte.

Over 1200 Licenses Sold In Grayling

Hardware and sporting goods stores were busy last week issuing deer-hunting licenses, besides waiting on their customers.

The Gamble Store, Hanson Hardware, Olaf Sorenson & Son and Hanson Sporting Goods stores sold up to and including Saturday, 1235 licenses.

The Hanson Sporting Goods Store, all told, 350; Olaf Sorenson Sporting goods store sold 350 resident licenses, 150 camp doe permits and 50 non-resident licenses; Hanson Hardware sold 180 regular licenses and five camp doe permits.

Besides these, there were licenses sold at Frederic and Lovells, an account of which sales we have no report.

Hunting licenses cost $2.25 each; camp doe permit $3.00 and non-resident license $25.00. If every northern county sold as many licenses as Crawford county, the Conservation commission should be swimming in "dough."

Shooting Fatal To Two Deer Hunters

FLINT MAN KILLED BY PARTY GUIDE. DETROIT MAN SHOT BY UNKNOWN HUNTER.

Several Accidents Mark Opening of Hunting Season

Appalling as it may be, still about what one could expect, are the fatal and injurious accidents that occurred here at the opening of the deer-hunting season. With so many experienced and inexperienced hunters in the woods, and with the privilege of doe and fawn shooting (for camp use), it is hardly surprising that so many people were shot.

William Osterman, 32, of Flint, was accidentally shot and killed by one of his own guides.

Everett W. Buell, of Detroit, was found dead with a bullet hole in the back of his neck.

Another hunter was shot in the hand and another in the knee.

Flint Man Killed By Guide

William Osterman, 32, of Flint, was instantly killed Saturday afternoon when he was accidentally shot by Donald Zimmerman of Houghton Lake.

According to reports the accident occurred at about 5:30 p. m. Saturday. The party had decided to quit hunting for the day and were about to "take down" their guns, when someone remarked, "there is a deer." At that Zimmerman whirled around to look and as he did so his gun accidentally discharged. The bullet from his 30-30 rifle struck Osterman under the left arm, piercing his chest.

Included in the party were the victim's brother Ralph, and Clarence Paige, both of Flint. Zimmerman, who is only 16 years of age, was said to be acting as guide for the party. The incident occurred in the vicinity of KP lake, about 18 miles north-east of Grayling.

The remains were taken to the Sorenson Funeral Home and to Flint the following day. He leaves wife and two children.

Everett W. Buell of 1900 Muirland, Detroit, was found dead near the Smith bridge on the South Branch river. He had been shot in the back of the neck, the bullet coming out of his mouth. This occurred sometime Sunday.

At about 8:30 p. m. Sheriff Papendick was notified by Humphrey S. Springington, an attorney of Detroit, at whose cottage Buell was stopping, that Buell was missing. He expressed fears that something might have happened to him, for he knew that he was well acquainted with the woods and could not become lost.

A searching party was formed and at about 10:30 p. m. the body was found near Smith bridge. Apparently he had been accidentally shot by some hunter, the identity of whom has as yet not been learned. Officers are investigating the affair.

The remains were cared for by the Grayling Funeral home and taken to Detroit for burial Monday.

Ward Lake of Route 2, Lake Orion, and Marvin Hamblin of Oxford were hunting Southwest of Lovells when Mr. Lake was shot in the left hand. The bullet also hit his rifle and lodged in the magazine. Mr. Hamblin was standing about 20 feet from him when it happened.

Leo Calkins, A. C. Curby, and Buhl Bert of Pontiac and others were hunting near upper Chub Lake in Otsego county, Saturday. Calkins, Curby and Bert were sitting on a log when a doe ran by them. A man named Durst started shooting at the doe and hit Calkins on the knee, smashing his kneecap. The injured man was taken to Mercy Hospital in Grayling where he will have to remain for a week or ten days, hospital authorities say. Officials in Otsego county are investigating the accident.

Among The Early Deer Slayers

FIRST HOURS INDICATED HEAVY TOLL

Some of our local nimrods got their deer early the first day of the season—Saturday. Just who may have been the first—Graylingite to fill his license isn't certain.

Max Laage reported that he got a fine buck at 8:30 a. m. Stanley Lazarowicz got his at 9:00 a. m. This was a 175 pound buck. Earl Broadbent was one of the early ones.

Roy Trudgeon lost a bet when he wagered he would have his buck by 10:00 a. m., but missed it by ten minutes. Miss Margaret Cassidy of Lansing also cashed her license early. After seven days of deer hunting, Miss Cassidy said, she finally got her first buck.

William Green of Port Huron, hunting in Beaver Creek, got his buck at 8:00 a. m. Robert Dorman of Lansing got a nice spikehorn while hunting down the river.

The game refuge at Hartwick Pines, after being closed for many years, was open in part. One hunter reported that he saw four deer hanging in trees in this area on the first forenoon. Who the lucky hunters were we haven't learned.

Carl Hanson, hunting near the electric power dam, got his buck early the first day.

Tony Trudeau and William Simpson each got a buck Sunday.

Jack Redhead, who just moved with his family to Lakewood, Ohio, couldn't remain away and had to come back for his deer hunt. Mr. Stead of Cleveland came with him and each got his buck the first day of the season.

Kenneth Peterson shot a seven-point buck Saturday morning at 8:30.

Walter Smyth of Detroit, visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Smyth, got an eight-point buck about 8:20 Saturday morning.

Claude Lydell of Grand Rapids who was visiting his son Frank Lydell, shot his buck Sunday morning.

Sceley Wakeley, Jr., age 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Barton Wakeley, got a nice buck the first day and says he "beat his dad this year."

Allen Stevenson, 15, is thrilled over his first buck. He got it the first day.

Keith Pershing and Glenn Penrod, both hunting with Roy Trudgeon, all got their buck the first day.

Jerry LaMotte filled his license the first day.

Grant Shaw said there were five bucks hung up in his camp. He said the only reason why he hasn't got a deer so far this season is because "I haven't been hunting. I'll wait until all my guests (about 20) are thru hunting and then I will go out and get one."

Can't have good luck every season. Ben Jerome of Pontiac reported to us Monday night that his party of four had hunted from the first day and hadn't even seen as much as a doe. They hunted in the area that had on previous years been very productive. That does seem strange in view of the fact that so many deer have been killed in Crawford county this season.

Rev. Kuhlman says his buck is "still on the hoof."

Col. Sindlinger and Col. Rosecrans of Lansing are among the local deer hunters.

Charles Ward and Tod Rockwell, of the Detroit Free Press, were deer hunting guests of Spike MacNeven first of the week. Rockwell got his buck Monday.

One of a party of hunters at the Lake Margrethe cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Roman Zacharski, of Flint, while in quest of deer shot a wildcat. He says he probably would not have molested the animal had it not threatened to attack him. It took four shots however before he killed it.

Game Law Violators Pay Heavy Fines

Kenneth Habel of Sandusky, James Spar of West Vernor Highway in Detroit, Ralph A. Carr of Detroit, were all fined $10 and costs for having a loaded gun in their cars.

George Crandell of Whitmore Lake, John Reilly of Dexter, and Alfred Hand of Ann Arbor were violating the game laws by hunting in a state park. They were fined $10 and costs.

Alfred Bishop of Diamondale was hunting without license number showing on the back of coat. Sentence was suspended and he paid court costs.

Max Schiester of Sandusky was caught transporting a buck deer without the seal closed. He was fined $15 and costs.

Howard Cook of Linden had in his possession a buck deer without attaching the seal. He was fined $25 and costs.

Frank Schwartz of Rockwood had a loaded gun in his car. He was fined $20 and costs.

Lawrence McDermott, and Robert Gibbons of Grayling, J. L. Gibbons of Pointe Au Pins, Drum Island, S. T. Crampton of Laporte, and Melvin Leman of Saginaw were picked up for disorderly conduct while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. They paid court costs of $6.40 each.

William Rowe of Pontiac paid a $25 fine and $6.85 court costs for being disorderly while drunk.

Announce Marriage Of Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin DeLaMater announce the marriage of their youngest daughter, Bonita Barbara, to Mr. Glenn Stine of Dearborn, the ceremony taking place on November 2nd in Napoleon, Ohio.

Attending the young couple were Miss Mabel Caldwell and Mr. George Ish, both of Dearborn. The bride for her wedding wore a navy blue street-length gown and hat with brown accessories, and her bridesmaid wore a rose gown and hat and blue accessories.

The bride was born in Gray-

Navy Enlistments Credited Against Local S. S. Quota

"Secretary Knox of the Navy Department has announced that local communities are given credit for each Naval recruit and that local Selective Service quotas are reduced accordingly," said Alfred Hanson, head of the local draft board, yesterday.

"Every young man who joins the Navy or Naval Reserve thus helps to fill our local Selective Service quota. Young men with in Selective Service age limits who have not been deferred would do well to consider the opportunities the U. S. Navy offers for specialized training and advancement while serving their country in its emergency."

"The age limits for the regular Navy are 17 to 31, and for the Naval Reserve the limits are 17 to 50. All applicants under 21 must have the written consent of their parents or guardians."

In addition to explaining that Navy enlistments are credited against the local Selective Service quota, Mr. Hanson also stated that a high school education is not necessary for acceptance by the Navy. "Any ambitious and patriotic young man of average mentality and good character who meets physical and other requirements may be acceptable to help man Uncle Sam's new 'Two-Ocean' Navy."

Shoppenagons Inn

A Litany of Thanksgiving

Can we give thanks
In a world of crisis and confusion; Misdirected, disintegrated, disillusioned; Worn, torn, sad and suffering; Foolish, fervid, felonious and fearful;
Can we give thanks?

FATHER, we thank Thee for Thy patience, Sitting in silence, withholding Thy judgments, Watching our willfulness, yet staying Thy wrath; Grieved by our boastings, yet tenderly forgiving; Knowing our natures, yet the friends who give us life;
FATHER, we thank Thee

FATHER, we thank Thee
For the dawn of life's true meaning, For the courage to face what we once feared;
For our willingness to admit our social, moral, and moral bankruptcy, For our confession that we have acted unwisely, knowing the consequences, for the prayer of the faithful for a pattern of peace,
FATHER, we thank Thee

FATHER, we thank Thee
For hearts that love and understand, For dreams that haunt us into action,
For a hope that makes life livable,
For a faith in eternal realities, For the open road to service and victory,
FATHER, we thank Thee

GOVERNOR DESERVES THANKS

It took a lot of courage to beard the overlords at Washington to discuss the transitory shift of industry from a private to a national defense status. This, if not modified, meant great loss to Michigan. Governor Van Wagoner's trip shows his personal and official concern in a matter which, if too long neglected or left to the natural turn of events, might develop into a problem of deep, serious consequences. Thanks a lot, Governor.

azine).

Necessity is a powerful stimulant.

Information please. Where's my long underwear?

Regardless of initial luck, nearly everybody plays a slot machine until his money's gone.

The present hour with all its difficulties will produce a new and finer leadership than we have ever known.

If a man has to pay out $8,000 a year in interest, taxes, and insurance premiums, he discovers eventually that he can't balance his budget by eating 30-cent lunches.

These days the more we read the more confused we get.

An enlargement of the brilliant new lighthouse seal will be posted on bulletin boards in hundreds of Michigan churches on Nov. 23 in recognition of tuberculosis Sunday. Thousands of Health Greeting pamphlets will be distributed with the message,
"Put Christmas seals on your

Grayling Boy Attends Marine Corps Birthday

John C. Deckrow, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Deckrow, who is serving in the U. S.
Marine corps, writes that he attend the 166th birthday celebration of the Corps.

He is now stationed at the Marine Corps base at New Virginia, N. C. He says:

"The highlight of the day was when Major General Torrey cut into a huge cake and gave it to a man dressed as Uncle Sam and said 'I now give you this cake to eat for all the men in the Marine corps and the people of the U. S.' A very good speech but I couldn't taste the cake. A clipping which I am sending was taken from a local paper here."

It reads in part as follows:

"Older than the Declaration of Independence, the U. S. Marine Corps, rattlesnakes and 'Don't Tread on Me' emblazoned on their standards and drum heads, were created by a resolution of the Continental Congress on November 10, 1775. In memory of the gallant thousands that lived and died as Marines all over the world, the Marines annually celebrate the birth of the corps."

"During 95 of the 166 years of this existence the Leathernecks have been in action against the Nation's foes. From the Battle of Trenton to the Argonne, Marines have amassed a record of brilliant achievements."

"True to the motto of their corps, 'Semper Fidelis'—always faithful—Marines at New River today endeavor to follow the examples of distinction and soldierly repute that has been the distinguishing mark of 'Soldiers of the Sea' since that early day in 1775 when the first U. S. Marine swore in to defend his country."

One of the most frequent instructions a sailor in Uncle Sam's Navy receives is the command, "Write to your parents often, at least once a week."

"What sort of things do you teach the Recruits to make in the U. S. Navy Service Schools?" asked a visitor to the Naval Training Station at Norfolk, Virginia. "Well, here is a sample of one of the most simple objects," replied an officer as he picked up a solid metal ash tray. "It is just an ordinary, standard machine part, but it's one of the projects that beginners are taught to turn out in the foundry and machine shop. It's made of scrap metal. Later it will be worked over into a series of other objects and eventually melted and the metal used again by the next class."

Toledo, are spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sales. The Doctor and Mr. Sales are hunting deer, but as yet they have had no luck.

Glen, Lowell, Victor, and Harold Overly, of Detroit, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Wheeler over the week end. They all hunted but no deer were gotten by the party.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Papendick daughter and son, Alain and Bob Moore, Sid Bear, and Fred Phippeny, of Ithaca, are here for two weeks hunting deer, and visiting relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Earlyn Conklin and children of Adrian, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Corwin, Jr., and baby of Saginaw, spent the week end visiting Mr. and Mrs. Carl Larson. The men went deer hunting.

Van Dean of California was in Grayling last Thursday visiting old friends. He left here in 1907 and this is the first time he has been back since, and he was looking up some of his old schoolmates.

Wayne Nellist of Detroit was here for the opening of the deer season and Mrs. Nellist and son Vernie joined him Wednesday and will spend the remainder of the week with his parents, Attorney and Mrs. Merle F. Nellist. Mr.
Cleo Kimball of Detroit was a week end guest.

Edwin Chalker was home from Western State College, Kalamazoo, for the week end and was accompanied by his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Houck.
Other guests during the past week at the E. S. Chalker home were Mr. and Mrs. Ed LaLonde and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vallad of Standish.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kearns of Ann Arbor spent the week end deer hunting here and visiting relatives.

William Schreiber of Dearborn is a guest at the home of his nephew, York Edmonds, here for the deer hunting.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith and Mrs. Nettie Smith of Lansing were week end visitors at the Clare Smith home.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Reynolds and Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Orr of Muskegon were guests of Mrs.
James Reynolds, Sr., Sunday, here for deer hunting.

Kenneth Gothro and Robert Bensinger of Lansing spent the week end visiting the former's mother, Mrs. Herbert Gothro, here for deer hunting.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lovely took their small son to Traverse City Monday for medical examination at the Munson Hospital. Mrs.
Paul Lovely and Mrs. Leo Lovely accompanied them.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Vern Nuremberg, all of Port Huron, were week end guests at the home of Mrs.
Marie Jensen. They came for deer hunting and Mr. Nuremberg was the lucky one to take back a buck.

Robert Skingley from U. of M., Ann Arbor, was home last week end visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Skingley and had as his guest Allen Seibert, his roommate at school. They went hunting and Robert was lucky to get his buck the first day.

Robert Tinker is returning Thursday to Quantico, Va., where he is stationed with the U. S.
Marines. He has been home on a twelve-day furlough visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tinker. He was recently transferred from Parris Island to Quantico.

Inside the Roosevelt administration, the men who urge a go-slow policy toward Japan are Admiral Stark, chief of naval operations, and the state department. On the other side are many of the other admirals, including Admiral Ernest King, commander of the Atlantic fleet, who says he can get along in the Atlantic merely with his present consignment of destroyers and light cruisers, which are all that are needed for conveying.

The first big point of the "strong policy" admirals is that every day of delay weakens the Russians, and the Russians are the big potential allies of the United States against Japan. With Russian bombing planes operating from Vladivostok against the paper and bamboo houses of Tokyo and Yokohama, the Japanese would be up against it.

The second big point urged by these admirals is one which not many people realize: When the United States went into the last war, Japan was on our side. There was no need to worry about the Pacific.
But this time, the minute the U. S. A. becomes embroiled in Europe, it has to guard its back door against a traditional and very potent rival.

Therefore, argues the Pacific school within the navy, let's face our enemies one by one rather than have two jumping on us later and from opposite directions.

There is nothing the navy dreads more than the idea of attack in two oceans at once—attacks aimed at Alaska on one side and Brazil on the other. That is why some of the admirals so resent the phone calls from Winston Churchill.

U. S. DESTROYERS
The submarine situation which forced the Reuben James and now threatens all U. S. destroyers in the North Atlantic, is far different from that of the last war.

Today, German submarines operate in gangs or wolfpacks of three to five, lurking in the path of a convoy, and without putting their periscopes out of the water. They do not even run their engines. Thus the approaching destroyer cannot pick up the subs with its sound detector, but the subs, on the other hand, can hear the engines of the approaching convoy.

Then when the convoy is within range, the subs release their torpedoes, sometimes blind. In other words, they do not lift their periscopes but frequently fire merely in the direction of the approaching engines. Because convoys travel so close together these days, hits are almost certain.

Submarines fire blind, chiefly, in the daylight. At night, on the other hand, when the submarine cannot be seen, it comes to the surface.
This is also reason for the increased number of merchant vessel casualties since September, for as the nights became longer, U-boats have longer hours to operate on the surface.

hell with the Good Neighbor policy!"

BRITISH AND U. S. POLICY

U. S. diplomats are not shouting at the house-tops, but there have been two important occasions when the British put a very restraining hand on American foreign policy, and checked major moves in the South Atlantic and the Pacific.

One move was last May when it became conclusively apparent that the Vichy government was the tool of Hitler and when many U. S. strategists favored the taking of Martinique and the Azores, and perhaps even a landing force at Dakar in French West Africa.

But the Churchill government protested that this would take U. S. ships away from transporting supplies to the Battle of Britain; would focus American attention upon an other part of the world. So Roosevelt kept out of the South Atlantic.

The second move was about two weeks ago when Mr. Churchill telephoned the President to advise against any showdown with the Japanese in the Pacific. His advice came shortly after the new pro-Nazi cabinet took office in Tokyo.
Churchill urged that the battle in Europe was the main show and the United States should not get absorbed with side-shows.

Regarding this Churchill advice, there continues to be a wide rift inside the Roosevelt administration.
And incidentally, there is not complete unity on this point inside the British government. Australian sentiment leans toward a cleaning up of the Pacific situation, after which all parts of the British Empire, plus perhaps the United States, could concentrate on Europe.

Rift in Administration

Inside the Roosevelt administration, the men who urge a go-slow
policy toward Japan are Admiral Stark, chief of naval operations, and
the state department. On the other side are many of the other admirals,

From Among Our Exchanges

Sorry, It's Too Late

It occasionally happens that some people having news for this paper who hand in their items late Tuesday afternoon or Wednesday morning are disappointed to see some other "write-up" published than the one they submitted. Because of the necessity of making certain trains on the D. & M. and buses, and limited mechanical facilities, it is necessary to get as much news as possible on the copy hook ahead of the deadline. Otherwise it would not be possible to get the presses going on time to catch the mails.

It simplifies the work on the copy desk considerably when people are so accommodating as to hand in their news rather than wait for the reporter to telephone for details then write the story. On some important stories when members of the family do not answer the telephone, inquiries are made of friends or relatives for details, or people qualified to give the facts.

A lady was recently disappointed because an obituary was not printed as she submitted it, but the editorial staff had waited until late Tuesday afternoon for the copy that was promised.
Rather than omit the story, such details as were available from inquiry were written and published. The obituary she wanted published arrived at 10:00 a. m.
Wednesday but the death had occurred more than a week previous. It happened all the essential details were identical but the write-up the reader preferred contained the names of more relatives. This is typical of several similar complaints and the explanation.

It is always much easier to publish a story as furnished by the family where weddings and obituaries are involved, reserving the right to edit stories according to space available and circumstances. When a reader is disappointed in a news story then the editorial staff is not satisfied with it either, but before all the blame is placed on the newspaper ask if you have been cooperative. It is the paper's obligation to furnish its readers what legitimate news it can gather, but in the case of this establishment not all of it can be done in the short time available Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday morning. Arenae County Independent, Standish.

What About Closing?

No one died of starvation while Mason food stores were closed two hours last Friday afternoon; no one died because of failure to secure drugs when the drugstores were closed; yet there were a number of prospective Mason shoppers disappointed when they came to town to trade and found that the stores were closed. We believe the city council did a wise thing several years ago when they frowned on the policy of having the stores closed every time some prominent citizen was buried. We doubt that the dead appreciated the honor.

Mason is no longer a wide place in the road. The city has a service to perform to a wide area. On holidays people expect the stores to be closed and in fairness to himself, his clerks and his fellow merchants every business man should close his store on holidays. However, from some of the remarks we have heard since last Friday afternoon we sometimes doubt the wisdom of closing up business places for a football game. Too many rural customers are inconvenienced.
We believe that a better way would be to suggest that merchants co-operate with the school and football team by skeletoniz-ing their staffs and arranging for at least one clerk or the proprietor to stay on the job to serve the trade that has not been informed or has forgotten that the stores will curtail service for an hour or two.—Ingham County News, Mason.

SILENT WORKERS

A young man who had done a good job and had not received the credit and praise he deserved came to me downhearted. I know how he felt—I've felt the same way when my efforts have gone apparently unappreciated.
But I've lived long enough to know that those who get their names in the headlines and their pictures in the papers seldom are the great creative workers. The man in the limelight often is but the medium through which a thinker in the wings expresses his ideas.

Those who work quietly, behind the scenes, frequently radiate the most influence and, silent workers are in good company.— The Silver Lining.

opens its 35th annual sale Nov.
24.

Frederic News

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Hunt of Detroit came up for the deer hunting.

Edward McCracken left last Wednesday for an extended visit in Bay City and Wayne.

John Armstrong is busy these days building a new barn to replace the one destroyed by fire Saturday. Fortunately the live stock was saved but he lost all his winter's stock feed.

Little Carol Lodge, 3 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo.
Lodge who drank some kerosene, is home from the hospital, much improved.

Ted Ridgway who has been ill for the past two weeks, is better.

and Mrs. Vern Wallace while Mr. Weaver is hunting.

Mrs. Walter Eaton has been on the sick list this past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wallace and daughter are visiting at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. Laura Wallace.

As Sam Chayron was driving south Saturday night on US-27 six miles south of here, his car rolled four times. Results, a badly bruised face, arms, and legs, with a badly cut heel requiring four stitches to close the wound.
The car was completely demolished.

John Rowell drove up from Lansing to visit his mother, Mrs.
Harry Horton, and to hunt. He was lucky enough to get a 9-point buck.

Elmer and Mark Fomer of Munith, Mich., are spending the week at the Edward McCracken home.

Plenty of hunters and plenty of bucks. All available homes are filled to capacity.

Jim Horton of Houghton Heights came to hunt deer and visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs.
George Horton.

Jack Duncleley of Pontiac is home this week, hunting.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Horner of Detroit are home for the hunting season.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

Thursday, November 21, 1918

Bernard Bromwell of River view spent Monday visiting his sister, Miss Vivian Bromwell.

Miss Vera Burgess of Buffalo, N. Y., is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. DeVere Burgess. She expects to remain for an indefinite time.

Miss Leona Skinner gave a party at her home last Friday evening, at which about 25 of her friends were present.

Mrs. Harry Simpson, who has been ill with influenza for the past ten days, is recovering nicely. Mrs. Simpson willingly volunteered her services, during the influenza siege, to care in nursing those stricken with the disease, and in doing so contracted it herself.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Edwards, a fine boy Tuesday, November 19th.

Miss Agnes Gendron spent the latter part of last week at Frederic, visiting Miss Zelma Devalk.

Mrs. Thomas Cassidy returned Sunday from Cheboygan after a few days visit with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Hans Peterson and Mrs. Doherty are spending the week in Johannesburg, visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. Peter LaRue returned to her home in Bay City Friday after a few days spent with her daughter Mrs. Glen Owen.

Ben Langsberg is spending a week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Langsberg. During the past summer he has been working in a munition factory in Detroit.

Mrs. N. Schjotz of Flint is in Grayling for a few days packing their household goods, preparatory to shipping them to Flint, where they will make their home.

Torval Waldemar, age 1 year, 5 months, youngest son of Mr.

and Miss Fred Baront, died last Saturday from influenza, at Alba. The family formerly resided in Grayling for about eight years, moving to Alba a short time ago. The remains were brought to Grayling Monday for burial.

Mrs. Jesse Guy of Sunfield, Mich., is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Claude Gilson and husband for a week or so.

Mrs. Eno K. Milnes entertained a party of young ladies in honor of Miss Vivian Bromwell last Thursday evening. All spent an enjoyable evening.

Mrs. Leo White and daughter Joyce, of Adrian, have been guests of the former's mother, Mrs. Clara McLeod for a couple of weeks. They returned home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bauman and daughter Grace, together with Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Graham of Detroit left Monday for New York. Mr. Graham has been appointed a secretary by the K. of C.'s for overseas duties.

Mrs. Anna Hanson is visiting relatives in Johannesburg.

Ebbon LaGrow left Wednesday for Saginaw and Detroit, and expects to be away for some time.

B. Peter Johnson lost a valuable team of horses in the fire that destroyed the Fisher barn at Frederic, the forepart of the week.

James Matthews, son of J. E. Matthews of this city, who was missing in action, had been wounded and was in a field hospital. Word has been received by his father that he had recovered and had gone back to his duties.

Wm. Phelps, claiming to be a citizen of Port Huron, was arrested here by Marshal Mike Brenner Sunday morning, for stealing an auto at Cheboygan. The auto was a six-passenger Buick and belonged to Dr. Chapman of Cheboygan. Officers along the line were notified and Phelps was picked up by the sheriff at Gaylord. The latter took charge of the car but his prisoner escaped and boarded a train coming toward Grayling. Mr. Brenner was notified that he was on the train at T-Town. The officer was on the job at that station when the train arrived and soon apprehended his man. Phelps was taken to Cheboygan to await trial.

A dancing party was given at the Temple theatre Tuesday evening by a couple of our local young men, that was very much enjoyed by several, especially the younger set. This was the first party held since the ban was put on public gatherings on account of the influenza epidemic.

Mrs. Frank Griffin of the South Side, suffered a painful accident last Thursday, while polishing a stove. Thinking the fire was entirely out she applied some of the blackening, but no sooner had she done so, when the liquid exploded and caught on the can of polish which she held in her left hand. She then threw the burning can against the wall and this too took fire burning the wall and ceiling before she could get it extinguished. Mrs. Griffin's left hand and arm were very badly burned.

ACUTE BRONCHITIS

With a death rate as high as 28 per cent in some series of cases, a severe inflammatory disease of the upper respiratory tract, called acute laryngotracheal bronchitis, should not be considered lightly by the public. In this disease an acute inflammatory process appears in the larynx or voice box, the trachea or windpipe, and in the larger tubes of the lungs. There is marked thickening of the walls of these air passages, the secretion is sticky and a tough, resinous glazed exudate lines the trachea and bronchial tree. This exudate may produce partial or complete obstruction to the larynx and the patients die as in fatal asphyxia.

The seriousness of the disease is not appreciated when the early symptoms appear. The patient seems to have an ordinary infection of the upper respiratory tract, as in a cold, but with an unusual amount of hoarseness. The temperature may be only moderately elevated, but the hoarseness becomes more pronounced, and shortness of breath appears. Shortness of breath may appear quickly, without adequate warning. Respiratory embarrassment causes pain, rapid pulse, and marked restlessness.

For these reasons when a cold develops in which hoarseness and fever are present, the modern substitute for the old croup kettle should be employed immediately. A high degree of humidity is almost essential to the relief of these patients. All should be in the hospital, according to the opinion of most doctors, and with a very high humidity, perhaps 95 per cent, together with oxygen to breathe, patients usually recover.

Sometimes suction of the secretions by mechanical means is necessary and many times the trachea has to be opened in the neck below the stagnation and blocking of the secretion in order to permit breathing. Such things as morphine and cough medicines are not useful since they cut down the breathing power of the patient. If marked hoarseness occurs in the presence of a cold, send for a doctor immediately, take to bed and under no circumstances consider the condition lightly. In our well-heated, dry homes and in hospitals with dry heat, the condition becomes worse so that arrangements must be made for the increase of moisture in the air. Mechanical humidifiers for small rooms can be purchased and those cases in which an oxygen tent is used have the lowest mortality. The new sulfa drugs have not been used extensively in this condition, and while they show possibilities—rest, hospitalization, oxygen, and high moisture in the atmosphere are prime necessities for saving the life of patients.

Singing in Bathub
Don't be ashamed of singing in the bathub, advises Dr. Freeman, but "place your head directly above a wash bowl and hum loudly, starting with a low note and gradually raising the pitch (until you) find the bowl strongly reinforcing your voice tone. An entire room, especially a small one, can sometimes be made to resonate in this way." Theory: different substances have different periods of natural vibration; when the voice finds them, they vibrate in sympathy. Men make better bath-room thrushes than women because modern plumbing is out of phase with higher-pitched voices.

By GENE ALLEMAN
Michigan Press Association

Lansing—The threatened strike of C.I.O. workers in the Chrysler tank plant at Centerline, one of Michigan's key industries in national defense, has focused attention again on the role of the state mediation board.

The idea of requiring labor to serve notice of intention to strike and thus to permit voluntary mediation during a "cooling off" period was conceived during the 1939 state legislature. The late Frank Fitzgerald had sensed the public's critical reaction to the sit-down strikes of 1937. Labor peace became one of his promises and the state mediation board logically followed when he was elected governor.

During the present emergency, Governor Van Wagoner has made frequent use of the mediation machinery established by the state board. To seek a settlement of the Chrysler tank dispute, the governor appointed a special mediation committee headed by Thomas J. Donahue, chairman of the state board. The governor said to the press:

"I will do everything in my power to make sure that the continuous flow of tanks from the arsenal is not interrupted for as much as one day."

Labor Policy

The rise here of labor disputes, some of which have seriously hampered defense production, is in rather sharp contrast to the cordial relations existing in England between unions and employers.

While strikes in war industries have been banned in England, government's order was agreed to in advance by both labor and employers. Furthermore, it contained no penalty provisions against strikers.

In the first World War, Great Britain introduced compulsory arbitration of disputes in war industries, and yet more than 1,500,000 munitions workers took part in illegal strikes during thirty-three months after adoption of the act in July, 1914. Compulsory arbitration is difficult to enforce.

Even the United States during the last World War never prohibited strikes or lockouts. The national war labor board was without authority, as is the present national labor mediation board, to enforce its decisions. Yet, the record shows that the board's decisions were generally accepted.

Morale is Key

Capt. Don Leonard, Michigan State Police executive who visited England last summer on a national civilian defense mission, was impressed greatly with the high morale of the British workers in support of the government's war efforts.

He visited industrial plants in which men and women were working long hours daily to produce vitally needed tanks, airplanes and munitions. Any thought of depriving the government of defense material was considered by the British "man on the street" as subversive, unpatriotic and downright sabotage.

"One factory was hit by bombs during an aerial raid," Captain Leonard relates. "The workers were so outraged at the Germans that they voluntarily increased their own production and stepped up the normal output 20 per cent for the next few months."

British labor unions are of long standing, contrasted to the newness of many unions in this country. The regular machinery for collective bargaining has been effective in adjusting disputes without recourse to interference in production.

Complacency

Since his return from England, the Michigan police captain has been appointed a special assistant to Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, commissioner of civilian defense, and has been "loaned" to the federal government for special service in promotion of civilian defense.

"How has the average American citizen received the civilian defense program?"

According to Captain Leonard, the attitude of Americans today is somewhat like the attitude of Britishers before the Nazi invasion of Belgium and Holland and the collapse of the French army. Britishers were unmindful of the possible dangers of bombing attacks from the air; invasion of the island was considered a fantasy; industrial production of war materials took an easy-going pace.

Lagging Morale

Because the United States has 3,000 miles of water between the Atlantic coast and Europe, the average American is complacently confident of the country's security from military attack, the captain observes. He is inclined to overlook the military hazards that would follow a few years from today should Hitler

And Did You Know?

THE DEVIL AND APPLE CIDER are linked together in an old legend of southern England. Seems he was found in an empty cask in a monastery by the good brothers who routed him out by pouring cider over him! Hot sulphur (naturally) remained, however, which they claimed made the cider sweeter and smoother. So they say to this day Devon men treat cider with brimstone!

WHICH OF YOUR SWEET-HEARTS will you marry? The apple seeds know, says an old English legend. Name each seed for one of your sweethearts, moisten the seeds and place them on your forehead. The seed that stays on longest is the man you'll wed!

YOUR FUTURE HUSBAND will make himself known to you by way of apple parings, according to Yankee cooks. When peeling apples, toss a paring over your shoulder. As it falls it will shape itself into the initial of your future husband.

APPLES AND POPCORN make a wonderful treat these crisp nights when you've come in, fresh from an evening of outdoor fun.

APPLE JUICE possesses both food and medicinal properties. It is valuable in the treatment of chronic and acute rheumatic conditions, helps simple constipation and improves the digestion for people who drink too little water.

triumph in Europe; he is confident also that the Japanese are bluffing, that we will not be engaged in a two-ocean war with a one-ocean navy.

The combined result of such circumstances and thinking is a lagging morale with regard to defense production. Rise of labor strikes is current proof of it. Even the so-called "shooting war" on the Atlantic has not been enough to create a spirit of determination to defeat Hitler. We present this conclusion not in criticism of labor, nor in defense of any administration, but as an observation objectively borne out by the facts.

As Captain Leonard puts it, many of us still do not realize that our government has pledged America's entire national resources to secure the military defeat of Hitler, regardless of the cost.

A costly tie-up of tank production, should the C.I.O. strike actually develop, might create a 1942 political liability akin to the sit-down backfire that proved so disastrous to Governor Frank Murphy.

The public moves slowly, yet public opinion, once aroused, becomes a swinging pendulum that tends to go from one extreme to another.

Red Cross Helps Solve Problems Of Our Recruits

Through Its Directors in Camps Red Cross Links Men With Home

Washington, D. C.—On the home and military fronts the American Red Cross is turning its focus on the man in uniform. In his behalf, more than 10,000 nurses are being recruited. Volunteers are donating their blood for a huge plasma bank. Red Cross women in chapters throughout the country are making 40,000,000 surgical dressings, and knitting sweaters for men in outlying posts and sailors on patrol.

But these are just fragments of the story. In military and naval stations, the Red Cross is concerning itself with the personal problems of the service man, helping him adjust himself to military life. For the disabled, the Red Cross is on the job in service hospitals, helping to speed recovery of the sick through a morale-building program.

In mobilizing a 2,000,000-man fighting force, the personal problems of the able-bodied man in uniform have in turn become problems of the morale divisions. Red Cross field directors stationed in all camps and reservations have been entrusted with the task of helping to solve these problems.

Speaking in a nation-wide broadcast recently, Chief of Staff Marshall, of the Army, addressed the following words to Red Cross field directors:

"When you help straighten out any of the great variety of tangles that human beings seem unable to avoid, you are helping to maintain morale on the home front and on the military front; you are helping us in training for defense."

The disabled man in a service hospital also can look to the Red Cross for help in speeding recovery. Medical-social workers, trained for their specialized assignment, are on duty at Army general and Navy hospitals to aid service physicians, to act as a medium of communication with the families of hospitalized men and to conduct recreational programs for convalescents.

The Red Cross provides recreational service for patients in all Army and Navy hospitals. Sixty-five new hospitals are under construction by the Army, and their recreation buildings are being equipped and staffed by the Red Cross as each one opens.

As part of the Army and Navy safety programs, members of the national Red Cross staff are qualifying instructors in First Aid and Water Safety among the ranks of the enlisted man.

The number of Army and Navy cases assisted by Red Cross field directors has increased in volume 140 per cent since Selective Service has been in operation. During the past year 126,515 cases involving active service men have been handled in the camps.

This Red Cross recently made available $1,000,000 to meet an emergency need for athletic equipment for the Army and Navy. This need arose when Government appropriations for the purpose became exhausted.

In addition to providing the Army and Navy with an official reservoir of nurses, the Red Cross is cataloging the nation's medical technologists. Through this program, in which approximately 3,000 technicians have registered, the Army and Navy will select such professional personnel as laboratory workers, dentists, dental technicians, pharmacists and other categories of trained technologists.

DEFENSE BOND Quiz

Q. Who said: "I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country?"

A. Nathan Hale, who gave his life for America, like great numbers of his fellow countrymen. We are only asked to lend our dollars for Defense Bonds and Stamps to defend the liberty for which they died.

Q. Where I work there is no pay-roll allotment plan for the buying of Defense Savings Bonds and Stamps. How can I get one started?

A. This depends on your position, and the kind of organization in which you are employed. Generally speaking, your immediate superior would be the proper person to receive your suggestion that you would like to have a voluntary pay-roll allotment plan introduced. The firm's bank can supply information about such a plan.

NOTE—To buy Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest post office bank or savings and loan association; or write to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C. Also Stamps now are on sale at retail stores.

I Thanksgiving Wish 1941

May we have peace, but with honor and with liberty; may we never seek war, yet may we never surrender the American way of life; may we never give up the right as Americans to think, talk, and worship, each according to his own way, yet may we be always united, a nation indivisible, in the common defense; may we enjoy the richness of our land, yet be willing to endure the hardships of free men determined to keep a democratic society. Give us peace AND freedom.

Farmers To Help In Defense Work

Crawford County farmers are being urged by AAA farmer-committeemen conducting the farm-to-farm canvass in connection with the 1942 Farm Defense Program to check over their present farm machinery for necessary repairs, to order necessary repair parts now so that the repair work may be done this winter, and to sell to junk dealers all machinery not worth fixing and other scrap iron and metal, according to Darrell H. Fleming, chairman of the Crawford County AAA Committee.

This move, Mr. Fleming said, will serve two purposes: First, repairing usable old farm machinery rather than trading it in for new machinery will save the expected limited supply of new farm machinery for farms who absolutely need it in 1942; and second, will release a huge quantity of scrap iron accumulated through the years on Crawford County farms to help meet the shortage in essential metals.

"A farmer who gathers up the old scrap iron around his farm and turns it over to junk collectors will be able to have this old iron returned to him in the form of a new tractor, if he needs one badly, or in necessary repair parts," Mr. Fleming said. Although the drive for scrap iron is urgent because scrap iron is needed for the manufacture of steel, Mr. Fleming emphasized that farmers should repair any piece of farm equipment that may serve a useful purpose for another year or two, rather than to discard it for new machinery in the face of imminent shortage of new farm equipment next year.

Wolf's Echo

After calling attention to the fact that the Michigan state sales tax has swollen "$50,000,000 more than was counted on when it was made effective," the Pontiac Daily Press went on to state in a recent editorial:

"This sum alone is as much as the entire State tax, ten or twelve years ago."

"Men who can see further than their noses are insisting that this is the time for Michigan to get out of debt. It is the time to cut out innumerable fancy frills. It is time to pare all state cost to the bone. It is time to apply every cent that can be collected on our indebtedness. Greedy gents with a great variety of marvelous schemes are watering at the mouth at the sight of the big tax receipts."

"If we do not take these excess funds and retine the bonds with them, we shall come into a period when the regret that will be expressed at such failure will echo like a howling wolf from Monroe to Ironwood."

Double Sneezers

Dr. Milton Hyland Erickson, director of psychiatric research at Eloise hospital in Michigan, observed a young woman who, when she sneezed, nearly always sneezed twice in rapid succession. After one sneeze she waited for the second and if it did not come felt "a distressing sense of incompleteness." Checking the sneeze behavior of the woman's mother, he ran into another double-sneeze pattern. When a granddaughter was born, Dr. Erickson kept careful record of her sneezing, found three generations of double sneezers. In his report in the current Journal of Genetic Psychology, he concluded: "Variations in the (sneeze) pattern may be hereditary."

Kate Smith Is Popular; But Sponsor Is Unknown

The false glamour of radio advertising is revealed by Nelson D. Brown, business manager of the Ingham County News, Mason, in whose office a group of students from Michigan State College recently conducted a radio listener survey.

While many people listen to radio entertainment, only a small fraction of them can accurately identify programs by their sponsors who pay the bill. Here is Brown's interesting comment, debunking the effectiveness of radio advertising, as published last week:

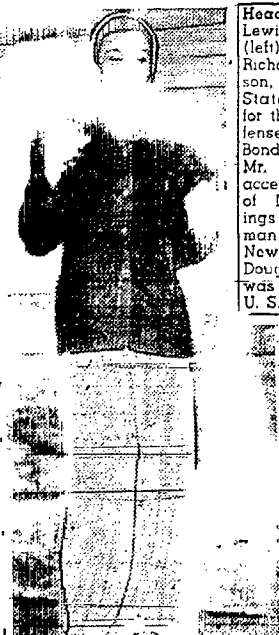

"Kate Smith is the most popular radio entertainer, at least on Friday nights, in this area. Sidney Levy and George Herbert of Michigan State College were in Mason last Friday night to conduct a radio listener survey. I stood by while they conducted it and I learned a lot. Out of 75 persons telephoned about 40 were listening to Kate Smith. Of the remainder there were probably 15 who were out doing the chores or had their radios turned off, six or seven were listening to football broadcasts, and the others were divided up listening to hobby or quiz programs. The interviewers were somewhat chagrined to learn that of the 75 persons interviewed, not a single one had listened to another broadcast being paid for by the company which hired the interviewers!

"People like Kate Smith, but not more than five of the 40 were able to correctly give the name of her sponsor. Only five people said Grapemuts. The other 35 said they didn't know, or guessed incorrectly that it was the Lansing Industrial bank, Chesterfield or Philip Morris cigarettes, Ford Motor company, Alka-Seltzer or Standard Oil. So it would appear that the Kate Smith hour advertises Kate Smith and not the company which pays her and the broadcasting costs."

Ensign Wayne Morris Seeks Wings

Wayne Morris, recent star of "I Wanted Wings," became a member of "Uncle Sam's Navy" in May, 1941, when he was appointed to the rank of Ensign.

When asked what he thought of the United States Navy, Morris said: "I think every man who is considering joining a military service should look into the chance of a lifetime which the Navy and Naval Reserve offer to get into the big-pay field of the future—aviation. In the Navy, you can attend the finest flight training schools in the world, and receive instruction from Navy pilots who introduced dive bombing, aircraft carriers and catapult take-offs to the rest of the world. Also, there are opportunities in Naval Aviation for men who don't want to fly. They can be trained as aviation machinists, metal smiths, photographers, observers, or they can receive instruction in many other trades. It's a great life in the Navy." Ensign Wayne Morris is pictured here in his line of duty as a member of the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board at the Long Beach Naval Reserve Air Base.

LOCALS

THURSDAY, NOV. 20, 1941

Do your Christmas shopping early.

There are only 36 days left until Christmas. Thursday is the day of the week.

Mose Laurant, who has been confined to the home of his son Wilfred Laurant, as the result of a fall two weeks ago, is recovering slowly.

John W. Cowell states he is not a partner nor in any way connected with the business of Russell Colter. This is to correct an error that appeared in last week's issue.

Mr. and Mrs. David Montour have received word that they are grandparents again, as a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Urban Doly (Patricia Montour) at Wayne Hospital in Wayne, Mich., Monday.

Saturday night Jack Armstrong's barn near Frederic burned to the ground and between 20 and 30 tons of hay that was in the barn burned. All the livestock were gotten out, but nothing else was saved. The cause of the fire is not known.

The AuSable Trout and Game club on the North Branch is looking for caretakers.

Corwin Auto Sales is displaying a 1942 Plymouth and a 1942 DeSoto. They are beauties.

The Danish Ladies Aid society will meet at the home of Mrs. N. Schjotz on Thursday afternoon, Nov. 27th.

This is the time to order Christmas Greetings. As usual we have a very beautiful line. Avalanche office.

The Oldsmobile Corp. have invited us to take a ride in their new 1942 Oldsmobile. Alfred says he is ready whenever we are. We'll be seeing you.

Tracy Nelson, Jr., arrived home Saturday morning. He was stationed at Newport, R. I., and says he liked the Navy fine. He has an honorable discharge.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Harley Franks of Johannesburg on Nov. 14th, a son, and to Mr. and Mrs. William Wiegandt of the same place, a daughter on the 17th. Mr. Franks is principal of schools in Johannesburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Smith of Flint were at their summer home in Maple Forest when their son Donald, 16, was taken suddenly ill. He was taken to the hospital Monday night and on Tuesday was given a blood transfusion.

For fire insurance call at the Avalanche office.

The American Legion Auxiliary held a special meeting Monday evening.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Emert, Saturday, a son who weighed 7 pounds.

Charlie Ford says "No deer hunting for me this year, but I sure likes to fish."

The Nels Corwin cottage near Wakeley bridge on the AuSable river, was sold to Roy A. Pearsall of Bay City last week. The deal was made by Art Clough.

There will be a special meeting of Grayling Chapter O.E.S. No. 83 on Thursday evening, Nov. 27th for installation of officers. Each member may invite one guest.

Amos Hunter, Roy Wolcott, Devere Wolcott, Roy Smith, Leo Lovely, Perry Akers, Reggie Shechy, Charles Gierke, William Kraage, and George Hilton were also lucky hunters.

Grayling Fish Hatchery reports that they are taking advantage of the perch run at Frankenmuth, and are trucking these fish to Grayling and re-stocking the lakes and streams in this locality.

I will be in Gaylord all day Friday and Friday evening, Nov. 28th at Dr. R. C. Peckham's office. Eyes examined and glasses prescribed. Dr. Kenneth W. Finkler, Optometrist, Traverse City, Mich. 11-13-3

Mr. and Mrs. Harley F. Russell will attend the convention and show of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association that will be held Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at Hotel Statler in Detroit. While they are gone Tiny's Beauty parlor will be closed.

Mrs. Roy Milnes entertained her bridge club at her home Thursday afternoon. Contract was played throughout the afternoon by the eight guests. Mrs. Robert Hayes and Mrs. Stanley Stealy had the high scores. Mrs. Hayes and Mrs. Harold Cliff were guests of the club.

Clarence Johnson, vice president of Grayling Winter Sports, Inc., just received a number of enlarged photographs of winter park scenes. They are 60 x 40 inches in size. Several of these are now on display in Grayling store windows. Later they will be displayed in Detroit. They are very attractive.

Mrs. Charles Meisel was hostess to her bridge club Thursday evening. A co-operative dinner was served followed by an evening of bridge. Two tables were in play, with Mrs. George Olson holding the honor score and Mrs. Stanley Stealy receiving the galloping prize. This was the first party of the season for the club.

The Betty Mae Beauty shop will be closed Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week as the proprietor, Mrs. Minnie Miller, will be in attendance at the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association convention and show that will be held at the Hotel Statler, in Detroit, on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Brad Jarmin left Sunday for San Francisco, Calif., where they plan to take up their residence, the former having secured a clerical position there. Brad resigned his position as bookkeeper for the National Log Construction Company in whose employ he had been for five years. They are motoring through and expect to stop at several places of interest enroute.

For his first birthday on Friday, Nov. 14, Billy McKay's mother Mrs. Patrick McKay, had a lovely party for him. The 20 lady guests cut pictures from magazines and began a nice scrap book for Billy, and for his five little guests there was a fish pond. Lunch was served from a buffet table, pretty with a lace cover and crystal basket of various colored flowers, and there were two birthday cakes.

The conveyor chain for use to haul toboggans up the hill at the winter sports park has arrived. It is 3,100 feet in length and weighs 12½ tons. The links are long and each is supported by a wheel upon which the chain rides. Steel-caging that will be used in the concrete conveyor trough hasn't arrived as yet and it is doubtful if it will get here in time for use this season. Priority orders are holding up some of this needed equipment.

Leonard Merchberger, age 27, of Clouston Road, Birmingham, is a patient at Mercy Hospital suffering from serious injuries received in an auto accident that occurred near Frederic Friday afternoon. The car in which Mr. Merchberger was riding was driven by his brother Paul and with them were the latter's wife and two children. Their car crashed into another car, the driver of which it is reported, made a left hand turn on the highway without giving any warning. Members of the Paul Merchberger family were treated for cuts and bruises at the hospital and dismissed.

Womans Club

Mrs. Willard Cornell and Miss Ilene LaFave were co-hostesses to the Woman's club at the home of Mrs. Cornell Monday evening.

The special feature of the program was a talk by Dr. Joseph Igle, head of the North Michigan Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Gaylord. Dr. Igle's subject "Tuberculosis", was most interesting and enlightening. One phase, "The Modern Treatment of Cases" was especially interesting. Mrs. Norman Butler, chairman of the program committee, introduced the speaker.

The Club voted to go 100% in the drive for Red Cross roll call memberships. Mrs. Joseph Stripe would like any lady having taken a membership with any other organization or person to please report with whom the membership was taken so that credit may be given them in the Woman's club list.

The club is sponsoring a rare musical treat for the Grayling public. The Acapella choir of Mt. Pleasant will give a concert in Michelson Memorial church at 7:00 o'clock Friday, Nov. 28th. There will be no admission fee.

Gilbert-White

Joyce Jane White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo White, and Richard Healy Gilbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gale Gilbert of Onsted, were married at an 11 o'clock single ring ceremony performed by the Rev. James Horton in Christ Episcopal Church on Oct. 25th. The candle lighted altar was banked on either side with large hampers of white chrysanthemums.

Mr. White gave his daughter in marriage. She was attended by her cousin Miss Mary Lou Woodbury of Bay City. William Seeburger of Blissfield was Mr. Gilbert's best man.

The bride was attractively gowned in a neutral brown wool costume suit with squirrel trim. With it she wore an aqua feathered Juliet hat and brown accessories. Her corsage bouquet was of white orchids with lilies of the valley.

Miss Woodbury wore a nude wool dress with gold nail head trim, brown hat and accessories. Her corsage bouquet was Johanna Hill roses and yellow bebe chrysanthemums.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. White wore a deep violet wool costume suit with black accessories. Mrs. Gilbert chose soldier blue silk with matching hat and accessories. Both wore gardenia corsages.

The couple are at home at 10433 Morley Avenue, Detroit.

Mrs. Gilbert was graduated from Adrian high school and later attended MacMurray College for Women at Jacksonville, Ill. She is a member of Sigma Phi Gamma Sorority. Mr. Gilbert also was graduated from high school and from Adrian College where he was affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He is employed in the chemical laboratory of the American Brakeloc Company in Detroit. Adrian Telegram.

The bride's mother was formerly Lillie McLeod and her girlhood was spent in Grayling.

The Weather

Ushering in the deer hunting season Saturday, the morning dawned with a beautiful sun and there has been bright sunny days ever since. Monday was the coolest day of the week when at 6:00 o'clock that morning the thermometer read 28. Tuesday was all high with temperature 64 at the warmest part of the day. Wednesday it was 52 at 6:00 o'clock a. m. and steadily rising. These balmy days are easy on the woodpile and coal bin.

Attention Nurses

All registered nurses are invited to attend a special meeting of the Local District Nurses Organization, to be held Monday, Nov. 24th at 8:15 p. m. at the Grayling Nurses' Home.

Personals

F. J. McClain, Sr., left Sunday for Detroit where he expects to secure employment.

Mrs. William Blanchard and daughter of Flint, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hoesli.

Wm. Bolinger and son Bill of Detroit were home spending the week end with Mrs. Bolinger and daughter Beverly.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Brien of Muskegon were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Liland Smock, here for deer hunting.

Cliff Newell of Fife Lake is visiting at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Eugene Papendick, and trying his luck at hunting deer.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hartin and children of Clare, visited Sunday at the home of Mrs. Hartin's mother, Mrs. Andrew Heribacka.

George Tuck, Wesley Woodford and Clyde Newell of Detroit are hunting guests at the homes of Bryan Newell and Eugene Papendick.

Mrs. Benjamin DeLaMater returned home Saturday from Saginaw, where she visited for a week with Mr. DeLaMater who is employed there.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Dyer and Bob Shriner of Detroit spent the week end near Grayling hunting deer. Mrs. Dyer will remain for the rest of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Jerome, Ben Jerome Jr., of Pontiac, and Alfred Hermann of Grand Rapids, are at the Jerome cottage at Lake Margrethe for the deer hunting season.

Mrs. Carl J. Bauer, Jr., and son Carl John III, arrived Wednesday to spend Thanksgiving with the former's parents. Mr. Bauer will arrive later and will spend the week end here.

Mr. and Mrs. Gern Russell of Jackson have been guests for the past week of the former's son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Russell. Mr. Russell has been trying his luck at hunting deer.

Warren Spence, Kenny Harrington, Joe Sagunski, and Joe Haywald, all of Disco, are spending the week end hunting at Dean's camp. Harrington was the first to shoot a buck-rabbit.

Mary Lou Woodbury, student at U. of M., Ann Arbor, spent the week end with her grandmother, Mrs. Clara McLeod, and friends. She was accompanied by her cousin, Carl Woodbury, of Flint.

Mrs. Liwyr Doremire and little son Liwyr, of Midland, who were visiting her last week accompanied her sister Mrs. Rollo Failing and children to their home in Seneca, Ill., to spend the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Keppen and daughter of Detroit are visiting at the home of Mrs. Keppen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bidvia. The former came for deer hunting and filled his license the first day.

Mrs. Eugene Baker of Indianapolis, Ind., spent a few days here last week visiting at the home of her father Nelson Corwin, and with other relatives. She had accompanied her sister Mrs. George Hilton home, the latter, who had been her guest for a week.

Frank Regner and Wayne Darby of Pontiac were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Sheehy for the opening of the deer season. They had no hunting luck, but Mr. Regner says that it does something to one just to roam in the woods and breathe the fresh, clean air, away from the busy grind of the city.

Mrs. Leo Lovely and daughter Julie Kay returned home Saturday from Seneca, Ill., where they had spent the week visiting Mr. Lovely who is employed there. The latter accompanied them home and Mrs. Rollo Failing and children also came and spent the week end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lovely.

T. C. Speights of Detroit is here visiting Mrs. Speights at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bidvia, for a time. Mrs. Speights has been here for several weeks caring for her mother who is confined to her bed with a broken leg. Mrs. Bidvia had the misfortune to break her leg several weeks ago and it is still in a cast.

Mrs. Wendell Gelster of Mt. Morris, and Mrs. Willard Haines and daughter Shirley Ann, of Pontiac, are visiting their parents Mr. and Mrs. William Hunter, this week. Weekend guests were Mr. Gelster, who went home with his buck, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hunter and Bill Hunter, Durant, Misses Noreen Dryer and Dorothy Keeloy, and Leslie Hunter, Flint. Mr. Haines is hunting with a party near Alger.

The Square Thing

Nearly everyone wants to do the square thing when he realizes what is the square thing. Take the matter of buying in our little city of Brighton. It would be a calamitous thing if the local stores should all close up and we could only buy from city stores and mail-order houses. It would be a nuisance to have to go elsewhere or send out of town for everything that we wanted to buy. We would be sure to get together under those circumstances and agree to support local firms.
Happily we are under no such compulsion, but let us keep in mind that local firms and taxpayers cannot exist without the support and patronage of local residents.
The square thing is usually the profitable thing in the long run. The more goods you buy from local merchants, the larger stocks they can handle and the better prices they can give you.

Armistice Day

On Tuesday, November 11, a minutes silence prevailed throuout the Grayling schools at exactly 11:00 a. m. A discussion of the meaning of Armistice Day took place in the different grades and rooms before and after the observance.

Defense Stamps

A check of the Defense Stamp albums on Friday, November 14 showed that 113 boys and girls were keeping their albums in the school safe. Janice Gould, the student manager of the Defense Savings Plan, reported that these students have purchased 320 ten-cent stamps and 48 twenty-five cent stamps. This makes a total of $44.00 saved since the plan was started in school.

Deer Hunters

Many students were doing double work all last week in order to be able to have Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday free to hunt or help care for the many visiting hunters. Those who planned to hunt were excused if they made up their work in advance and presented a hunting license plus a note of permission from home. With term examinations coming right after Thanksgiving recess students making up their work in advance will be saved incompletes.

Thanksgiving

As scheduled in the activities program for the year as published some time ago school will be closed for Thanksgiving this coming Thursday and Friday.
School will also be closed from Monday, December 22 to Monday, January 5, for Christmas vacation.

Red Cross Accident Prevention
On Wednesday, October 27, a thousand Home and Farm Accident Prevention charts were distributed to the children of Crawford county. Using the check sheets and manuals the various teachers reported special action taken by students in the homes to prevent hunting and gun accidents, jack-o-lantern fires, injury because of toys not being put away, and other hazards in and about the home.

Materials were sent to the following schools and reports received as follows:

Petthaus School spent one week in giving special study in the Health classes. The sixteen students were reported by their teacher, Miss Lottie Cook, as being more conscious of how accidents occur.

Mrs. Heath of the Standard School discussed the program and sent home some 35 check sheets.

As reported by the Grayling staff, the program was carefully outlined and each of the 625 students present was given a check sheet.

The Frederic and Love schools as yet have not returned their report to the county headquarters.

Junior Red Cross

The Grayling students have joined their teachers in a 100% participation in the Red Cross roll call. Each room and grade has contributed as shown by the 100% sign on the front door of the building.

Last year the lower six grades turned in $10.37 and $9.73 this year. The upper six grades totaled $6.91 last year and $7.44 this year.

Outside the subscription for the grades and rooms this money remains in Grayling and is used throughout the year to carry on worthwhile projects.

Visual Education

Last week films were "Our Earth" and "French-Canadian Children." "Our Earth" provided a study of world geography.
"French-Canadian Children" described the home, school and community life of children in Canada.

Tenth Grade Party

On Thursday night the Sophomores held a class party in the gym. Cake and cider were served. Miss Dorr and Mr. Foster supervised the party.

Carnival

The hard work of Mr. Cornell and the boys contributed much to the carnival held Monday night in the gym. Nineteen different booths and games gave the gym a real carnival atmosphere.

South Side News

Of Interest to Hunters

PERMIT TO KEEP GAME IN FREEZER LOCKER

The amount of game a hunter may keep in a freezer locker under the new cold storage regulations may not exceed the hunter's possession limits, the conservation department is informing early applicants for storage permits.

Small game, excepting migratory waterfowl, may be kept for 30 days and deer for 60 days after close of season, without permit. By securing a special permit from the local conservation officer, the hunter may keep the game up to six months longer in a cold storage place where it may be inspected by the officers or by state police.

Here are the limits on the amount of game that may be stored, when it is legally taken and proper permits have been secured: one deer; one bear; six cottontail rabbits, 10 snowshoe hares, or a combination of cot-tontails and snowshoes totaling 10; 10 fox and gray squirrels, combine; four pheasants; 10 ruffed grouse; and 10 prairie chickens and sharp-tailed grouse, combined.

HUNTING INCIDENTS

When Art Jackson, widely-known 71-year old hunter of the swamps in the conservation department's Dead Stream game area, killed his fifth and sixth black bears of the season a few days ago he not only ran his lifetime bear kill total to 106, but uncovered evidence of cannibalism, uncommon among bears.

Visiting his trap line in Mis-aukee county, Jackson found a big bear feeding on the carcass of a smaller one caught in one of his traps and killed it with a single rifle shot. While such evidence of bears eating other bears has been recorded, the instances are few.

Misaukee is one of five Michigan counties in which bears are not protected.

SPECIAL PERMITS REQUIRED

Lucky deer hunters planning to take their trophies through the state of Wisconsin on their way from upper to lower Michigan are reminded by the conservation department that they must first secure a special permit from conservation district headquarters at Ewen, Escanaba or Crystal Falls.

Last year 785 permits were issued at the three offices to transport deer through Wisconsin.

The deer must be transported by the legal owner, who must have the special permit in his possession. State law requires that deer must be in transit not more than 48 hours after the close of the season. When hunters are unable to get their deer out of the woods in that time, they may get a special permit from the nearest conservation headquarters.

This year it will be legal to transport a doe, if it was legally killed under a camp permit and if at least one quarter has been consumed in camp.

Special permits, obtainable from conservation officers without cost, also are necessary for shipping hides and heads to taxidermists and tanners.

Hunters returning through Wisconsin are reminded that Wisconsin officers are strict in their enforcement of a law requiring that guns be broken down or in case while in an automobile.

HOW MANY DOES WILL BE KILLED?

Opening of Michigan's regular deer hunting season found speculation about the number of does likely to be killed the principal topic of conversation in hunting camps and hunters' outfitting headquarters.

With the ban on doe killing lifted by the Legislature after 20 years of the one-buck-law, sales of camp permits skyrocketed. Only one permit is issued to a party of four or more hunters, and it is only on the camp license that antlerless deer may be taken. Though 20,000 permits have been printed, no estimate is available of the number sold. Last year only 703 were issued.

Many of the state's 175,000 deer hunters will be ineligible

TB Christmas Seals Go On Sale Nov. 24

The 1941 tuberculosis Christmas seal which will be placed on sale throughout the country on Nov. 24, features a lighthouse.
Against the blue winter sky, which forms the background of the design the double-barred cross, in red, is spot-lighted by the lighthouse beacon.

Stevan Dohanos, a native of Lorain, Ohio, a well-known muralist and illustrator, is the artist of this year's seal.

Out of his own experience he conceived the theme of the light-house as the symbol of the tuberculosis work. For it was soon after he had begun to gain recognition that he discovered he had tuberculosis. He had just been asked to join an art studio in New York and was preparing to move there from Ohio.

Mr. Dohanos said—that the temptation was great to work on and hope that he would regain his health. But the educational campaign of the tuberculosis association had taught him about the disease he had to fight. So he immediately went to a sanatorium and underwent treatment and complete rest.

Three years after his return to New York Mr. Dohanos was chosen by the Treasury Art Project in Washington to do paintings in the Virgin Islands for federal buildings. Since then he has completed two mural projects—one for the Elkins, W. Va., Agricultural and Forestry Building, the other for the Post Office at West Palm Beach, Fla. He is now working on another mural which will be placed in the Charlotte Amalie Post Office in St. Thomas, Virgin Islands.

For the permits because they do not establish a bonafide hunting camp and do their own cooking or hire their own cook.

The season opened with the supply of game good, according to conservation officers' reports.

6,400 ACRES ADDED FOR HUNTING AT HARTWICK

Posting of closed areas in Hartwick Pines and Wilderness state parks, near Grayling and Mackinac City, to allow deer hunters an additional 11,454 acres has been completed by men of the conservation department's parks division.

Under authority of an act of the 1941 Legislature the department removed the "no hunting" signs from the park boundaries and set them up near park headquarters. Hunters will have 6,400 acres of new territory at Hartwick Pines park, 5,054 at Wilderness.

Conservation Train- ing School Has Busy Schedule

Though the conservation department's new training school on the north shore of Higgins Lake is not yet six months old, superintendent Russell J. Martin reports the school's schedule is now almost completely filled for a year in advance.

Beginning January 8 and continuing through April there will be 10 five-day schools of "in-service training," for groups of conservation officers, especially recruits, and for members of the department's parks, fish, forestry and game divisions who are brought together each year for coordination of far-flung, statewide activities, and for "refresher courses" in their special fields.

Booked for summer months are regular college credit classes in conservation for teachers and students about to become teachers. On other weeks and weekends, groups of educational leaders, 4-H club boys and girls, future farmers, naturalists, sportsmen and others in allied conservation work meet at the school.

Five buildings of the school have been completed, and five more are now under construction by CCC labor.

What mechanical jobs can I learn in the U. S. Navy? You can choose one of many mechanical trades, including aviation machinist, patternmaker, metal-smith, optical mechanic, radio-man, boilermaker, aerographer, Diesel engineer and welder.

What is the caliber of the big guns on a U. S. battleship? The standard guns of the main batteries range from 12 inches to 16 inches. The effective range of a 14-inch gun is 30,000 yards, or slightly more than 15 miles. The range of a 16-inch gun is somewhat greater.

How long must a bluejacket serve before he is given a "rating" in the United States Navy? A seaman must serve at least 12 months and take a Navy training course in his trade or vocational specialty as well as pass a required examination before he obtains a rating. Every rated man in the Navy is a Petty Officer.

Is there an official haircut for bluejackets in the U. S. Navy?
Yes. Sailors in the Navy must keep their hair cut to within the prescribed two-inch length. On a large battleship the six barber chairs are occupied most of the time keeping the heads of some 1,400 men trimmed to the proper length.

How much does it cost to feed the crew of a battleship in the U. S. Navy? Enlisted men in the U. S. Navy are the best fed in the world. It costs approximately $175,000 a year to feed the crew of a single U. S. battleship.

Can a married man join the U. S. Navy? Married applicants are not accepted by the regular Navy, but a married man can enlist in the Naval Reserve.

How tall must you be to be accepted for Uncle Sam's Navy? A candidate must be no shorter than 5 feet, 4 inches tall.
